The Secret History of Soldiers: How Canadians Survived the Great Canada's War

CWM Historian Tim Cook will explore how Canadian soldiers coped and endured in the trenches through the creation of a unique soldiers' society of song, superstition, dark humour, theatre, and cultural expression.

Dr. Tim Cook is an historian at the Canadian War Museum, where he curated the museum's First World War permanent gallery, and numerous temporary, travelling and digital exhibitions. He has authored 12 books, including the national-seller Vimy: The Battle and the Legend (2017). He is a Member of the Order of Canada.

If you wish to attend, please telephone the Friends Office at 819.776.8618 or email at fcwm-amcg@friends-amis.org
